

SECOND

Day Of The Trial Of Ohio
Vs. Charles SuttlesTwo Wills Filed In Probate
On Tuesday

Tuesday was the second day of the trial of Charles Suttles, charged with incest, in the court of common pleas. The witnesses were examined for the state on Monday and on Tuesday morning a large number of witnesses were examined by the defense. At one o'clock Tuesday afternoon the arguments were begun by the attorneys. The case goes to the jury late in the afternoon.

The Wolford Will—

The last will and testament of Thomas E. Wolford, late of Mt. Vernon, has been filed in probate. By the terms of the will he gives all his property, both real and personal, to his wife, Alice A. Wolford, provided she contribute to the care and support of his daughter, Mary Edith Wolford. Upon the death of his wife, all the property remaining goes to the daughter, mentioned above. Alice A. Wolford, the wife, is named as the executrix of the will which was signed January 31, 1908, and witnessed by Walter R. Patterson and T. J. Wood.

Adam Richert's Will—

The last will and testament of Adam Richert, late of Brown township, has been filed in probate. The testator, by the terms of the will, gives all his property, both real and personal, to his wife, Margaret. After her death the property goes to the two children, Harvey and Ethel, share and share alike. The will was signed April 22, 1909, and witnessed by Charles Motz and Clinton M. Rice.

ROBBERS

Blow Safe In Morrow County
And Get $1,000

(Delaware Gazette)

Crackmen early Monday morning blew up the safe in the general store of A. L. Pipes, at Fulton, Morrow county, a village north of Marengo and a short distance east of Cardington. One thousand dollars was stolen from the safe.

Bloodhounds enroute to the scene from the Ohio penitentiary passed through the city this morning. The party was making the trip in an auto and a stop was made at Cook's garage to inquire as to the road to Fulton. The run from Columbus to Delaware had been made in fifty minutes.

On arrival at Fulton the bloodhounds were placed on the trail which was followed from the store to the Toledo and Ohio Central depot. It is believed the robbers escaped on a light train.

The job bore evidence of the work of the same organization of robbers and bandits which since October 31 has looted the safes of banks, post offices, and business concerns in small towns of approximately $60,000. The safe blowing today was the seventh in Ohio in 29 days.
